Submission Requirements
All entries must be made through AACTE’s online submissions site. Attachments must include:

- An information file providing the dissertation’s title, author, and current contact information; the name of the institution where it was submitted; the date it was completed; and the dissertation adviser’s contact information (name, title, current mailing address, and e-mail address)
- A letter of support (not blinded) from the dissertation adviser explaining the importance of the dissertation’s question, the appropriateness and completeness of the study’s design, and the significance of the analyses and interpretations
- A narrative summary file* that answers the following questions about the dissertation:
  1. What conceptual, methodological, or research question did it address?
  2. What was the rationale for the study?
  3. What was the knowledge base for the study?

  7. What were the strengths, weaknesses, and limitations of the study’s design?

*As you construct your narrative, do not simply cut and paste together pieces from your dissertation. For the first round of judging, an applicant’s dissertation is rated SOLELY upon the narrative summary submitted. It is, therefore, essential that this summary reflect clearly, concisely, and accurately the research of the full dissertation. Narrative is not to exceed 10 double-spaced pages, exclusive of appendix pages; use 12-point font size and remove identifying marks to ensure blind review.

This award, overseen by AACTE’s Committee on Innovation and Technology, recognizes an innovative use of educational technologies in a school, college, or department of education (SCDE).

Eligibility and Selection Criteria
SCDE initiatives that infuse technology throughout the curriculum may or may not be technologically sophisticated. To be considered innovative, the SCDE must use technologies to stretch beyond what might normally be done in its educator preparation programs; the programs must have changed in some way as a result of the technology use and integration. For example, the innovation may have resulted in one or more of the following outcomes:
- Bridging the theory and practice of teacher preparation through the use of multiple technologies.
- Integration of technologies with teaching and learning.
- Effective use of distance learning.

- Practices that involve educator preparation faculty and faculty from other disciplines in activities across the college or university.
- Leadership in the development and/or conduct of activities across campus.
- Forging state, regional, national, and international links.

Applicants should identify the program’s context, goals, and objectives; its components; and the impact technologies have had based on qualitative or quantitative research. Only programs that have been in place for at least two years will be considered.

Submission Requirements
All entries must be made through AACTE’s online submissions site. Application materials for this award must include:
- A 300-word abstract of the program.
- A narrative, not to exceed 2,000 words, that addresses the program’s context (e.g., urban/rural, elementary/secondary, etc.), goals/objectives, innovation components that integrate technology and pedagogy, duration, outcomes, and sustainability.
- A list of any scholarly works, awards, or internal/external funding associated with the program.

The committee recommends the use of multiple media formats, not to exceed three attachments to the submission. These may include short videos or audio (60 seconds or less), images, and other multimedia elements as appropriate. These can be included in the application or provided as links to where these materials are hosted. However, the formal narrative is of primary importance to reviewers. Attachments should be seen as helping instantiate the narrative but not as a replacement for it.
